With lusterless eyes, I flapped the lines on Queenie's broad back; she lurched to a stalling start and stalling, stopped.

"Hum up, Queenie," I said, and flapped the lines again. With subterranean rumblings, Queenie jogged slowly down the drive and turned into the street where I exorted her into a gait resembling a prolonged and suspended fall in a forward direction.

The Newman Council, and the entire Bates community, pays tribute to Father Kenneth Rancourt, who in his own unparalleled way, gladdens the heats of all those he touches.

Thanks, Kenn, and may God's goodness, which you have helped so many to realize, continue to bless your life, and make you happy.
